PHILADELPHIA BASE BALL MAD

First Game in World Series on--Sunshine
After Heavy Rain Gladdens the Fans
---Alexander and Shores to Pitch.

Philadelphia, October 8.—At 10:45 this morning the national commission at the Bellevue-Stratford announced definitely that the initial game of the world's series would be played on the Phillie field at two this afternoon. Umpires Klein and Evans had gone to inspect the grounds but on seeing the sun shining Chairman Harry Hermann did not wait for the report of the umpires. More than a hundred men were at work on the grounds with brushes, scrapers and sawdust and Hermann said that if necessary gasoline would be burned over the pitchers' box, home plate and side lines before the game.

Quakertown was excited today as never before in its history. This was the day for the staging of the first world series combat between the Red Sox and Phillies and the whole town wanted to join its way into the small Phillie park for the purpose of watching the classic battle and to root for the first National League champions Philadelphia ever had.

With the betting at even money on the outcome of the series and wagers will win the first game, the rival aggregations will go into battle backed by tons of money.

Grover Alexander, ready and willing Phillips in today's battle. Every National League batter was confident that the pitching wonder of the baseball world would stomp every Red Sox attack. Would hurl them back every time they attempted to resume the defensive, and that Philadelphia would win through the slugging of Cravath, Whitted, Luderus and the other clubbers who aided the Phillips in the present fight.

At least 60,000 persons applied for tickets for the first game—but only a trifle over 21,000 could be accommodated. As a result there are 40,000 disappointed persons in this town today. The Phillips' owners in their distribution of tickets, exercised extreme care in the sale of the postboards so they would not fall into the hands of the speculators, and they have been surprisingly successful in their thwarting stunt.

The crowd that will see the first clash in the world's series here will be almost entirely a home town crowd. President Baker of the Phillips, true to his promise, took care of the Philadelphia requests first of all, and because these were nearly double the seating capacity of the park it meant that practically every ticket, outside of those allotted to the national commission went to Phillie fans.

The players of both clubs were up and around early today. Confidence prevailed in both camps. The Phillips were sure that the combination of Alexander's pitching and the possibility of Cravath slugging a few balls over the short right field fence, would bring Alexander wouldn't be any tremendous obstacle for them to overcome, and that the Red Sox twirlers would keep Cravath from adding to his home run record.

The new seating capacity of the park according to estimates made today by the club owners, was close to 22,000. The total receipts were expected to be in the neighborhood of $55,000. The four thousand $5 box seats were sold out within an hour after the Phillips won the pennant and the same was true of the 5000 reserved $3 seats, and the 2000 $2 seats.

MILITIA READY AT NASHUA

Striking Mill Help Gets Better of Police and Trouble Is Looked For.

Following the first serious clash between striking textile workers, Governor has summoned authorized Nashua authorities to call out the state militia. Two companies of the national guard remained in the armory all night and today. Mayor James B. Crowley is being urged to close the saloons. He has already stopped the sale of firearms. A clash between the strikers and police at the gates of the Nashua Manufacturing Company resulted in injuries to four policemen, one of whom, John Kenney was taken to St. Joseph's hospital. This forenoon everything was quiet about the mills, but the strikers are intense and trouble is expected at any time.

THEY'RE OFF!

National League Park, October 8.—A huge column of smoke rising over the grounds on which the toss of a coin in New York last Saturday decided the Red Sox and Phillips should play for the premier honors of baseball. While a band played selections shortly after noon, the men who had worked from dawn to get the grounds in shape, spilled earvays of gasoline on the scraped turf and set fire to it. Flames of smoke rose as the burning fire and strangers had no difficulty in finding the park, but even with this and the rolling of savantin it was still soft.

The men took the field in the following lineup:

Red Sox—Hooper rf, Seabourne, Speaker cf, Hollister 1b, Lewis lf, Gardner 3b, Barry 2b, Cuddy c, Shore p.

Philadelphia—Stock 3b, Bancroft ss, Paskert cf, Cravath lf, Luderus 1b, Whitted lf, Niehoff 2b, Burns c, Alexander p.

Miss Evelyn Sherburne will close her summer home, the old Warner mansion on Daniel street, on Saturday and return to her Boston home for the winter.

POLICE MAKING INVESTIGATION

Elmer Smart, the Dover Boy, Said to Have had a Gold Watch and Chain
When He Came to this City.

The finding of the body of Elmer Smart, son of Mrs. Sarah Smart of Belknap street, Dover, in the South Mill pond on Thursday morning has led the police department to conduct a vigorous investigation as to just how the young man met his death. When the body was taken out of the water for examination by Medical Referee A. B. Sherburne it was noted that one of the pants pockets was turned inside out and this fact was commented on by Deputy Marshal Duckett and others interested in the case. Later in the day two neighbors of the mother of the unfortunate young man came to this city and made positive the identification. From them it was learned that when young Smart left Dover on Sept. 18 for this city he had a gold watch and chain, and wore an overcoat, both of which were missing when the body was found.

The suicide theory was entirely discredited by the police and acting on the supposition that the young man's death was either of an accidental nature or due to foul play, an investigation was started.

This morning Lionel Nasoi, of Dover, a chum of young Smart, was questioned at length by Chief of Police Hurley, but nothing of importance was elicited. From him it was learned that Smart was employed by the mill at Dover and was of a "quiet" disposition.

He stated that as far as he could learn Smart did not call at his boarding place on Saturday, Sept. 18, when he came to this city and found that Nasoi had gone to his home.

Although the police are working practically without any clue whatever, they are in hopes of finding something that may lead up to what caused the young man's death.

This morning an autopsy was performed at Hamm's undertaking rooms by Medical Referee A. B. Sherburne, assisted by Doctors H. J. Taylor and G. E. Pender. The body was found to be in a bad state of decomposition and had been in the water according to Dr. Sherburne at least ten days. There were no evidences of external violence, the bracelet over the left eye being only superficial and made probably when the body was hauled over the rocks when being taken out of the pond.

There however was no water in the lungs, but some in the phren-eavally. According to Dr. Sherburne the water might have soaked into the cavity owing to the length of time the body had been in the water. While the Medical Referee has not returned his findings, it will probably be that death was due to drowning.

The body of young Smart was turned over to a Dover undertaker this Friday afternoon to be taken to his home for services and burial.

BANDITS MAKE A MILLION DOLLAR HAUL

Hold Up New York-St. Louis Express
Train, Rifle Mail and Express Cars and Make Escape.

(Special to The Herald) Parkersburg, West Va., October 8—Boarding the Baltimore and Ohio train No. 1, operating between New York and St. Louis at Central, West, Va., 50 miles east of here shortly before three o'clock this morning while the train was taking water, two masked bandits forced the engineer and fireman to uncouple the engine and mail car from the passenger coaches and then drove the engine and mail car to Pollgate, 6 miles west to Central where they rifled the mail car and escaped in an auto held in waiting by a confederate. Possessions are searching the country for the bandits who traveled east. Railroad officials were unable to state this morning what lost the bandits secured. According to reports at West Union the safe in the derailed car had $1,000,000 in postage currency. The bills were of such denomination that should the bandits escape they could pass them.

NEW CASTLE HORSE WINS BLUE RIBBON

Eagle, the handsome thoroughbred saddle horse owned by Mr. Edmund Tarbell of New Castle was awarded the blue ribbon in the horse show at Brockton fair on Thursday. This show is one of the best held in New England, and this year there was an exceptionally gay entry list of show horses, including the famous Judge Moore stables of Hamilton.

The same horse was awarded the blue ribbon at the local fair here in September, and last winter won two at the Boston show. The horse was shown and rode by Mr. Tarbell's son Edmund, whose clever work had much to do with the horse's win. He has schooled and trained the horse himself.

"THE COTTON KING"

World Film Corporation presents the five-part photoplay, "The Cotton King," based on Sutton Vane's well-known drama of the same name.

George Nash, the well-known star of many a Broadway success, is the central figure of this powerful drama, which is the first production for World Film of Oscar Eagle, one of the most experienced film directors in the business.

This short right about that sent Gallant tumbling came like a flash out of a sunny sky and went to the jaw with remarkable precision. It was one of the best timed and directed blows seen at the Triple A. this season.

Now both boys are on the alert for business. Gallant is eager and determined to retrieve his lost laurels. Callahan on the other hand is eager to repeat. For these reasons both have buckled down to business and are training as sedulously as a pair of boxers ever did. Gallant is working at Chelsea, while Callahan is leaving nothing undone at his rendezvous, a short distance from Brooklyn.

Manager Alex MacLean is sure that Gallant will reverse the verdict. He points to Gallant's achievement in the return bout with Sam Rohdeau, and he is confident that Gallant is good enough to fool the wise ones just as he did on that occasion. Rohdeau was favorite then as Callahan will be next Tuesday night.

The preliminaries are in keeping with the other fine introductory events one of the best pictures we have ever shown. Be sure to see it.

AIRSHIPS NEEDED FOR COAST DEFENSE

President Wilson's proposal to realize the sum necessary to meet the cost of bettering our defenses by either a bond issue, selling of Panama canal bonds, or a special security is hailed by those interested in aeronautics as affording the only hope to secure the $17,500,000 appropriations necessary to meet the aeronautical needs of the army and navy and militia.

In a letter written to the presidents of 22 aero clubs affiliated with the Aero Club of America, and to the heads of the National Guard and Naval Militia of 48 states, Mr. Allan R. Hawley, president of the Aero Club of America, urges support to any plan which President Wilson may propose to raise the necessary sum to meet the cost of adequate armament and warns that unless this support is given and the necessary funds are raised the air service will suffer the same treatment as in the past years when there never was allowed sufficient money to form even the skeleton of an aeronautical organization for the army and navy, and no allowance was made at all for the militia. As a result, the army, navy and militia have, together, only a dozen aeroplanes.

What is required this year is $7,500,000 for the navy, $6,000,000 for the army and $6,000,000 for the militia. The army and navy have now only one aviation station each, whereas there should be one at every military and naval center. The Philippines, Hawaii and Panama canal have no aerial defense—there being not a single aeroplane at any of these important possessions.

The militia has no aeroplanes at all outside of the few obtained through the national aeroplane fund instituted by the Aero Club of America to relieve this deficiency. But for this fund the militia would not have had any aeroplanes for the maneuvers—just as there were no aeroplanes for use at Tientsin in connection with the field artillery practice, or in connection with the Atlantic fleet maneuvers. The purpose of having armies and navies being for defense, that means defense against armies and navies well provided with air craft. Without air craft, armies and navies are blind, and at a disadvantage that would be fatal—as has been shown by the defeats sustained by Russia through having only one hundred aviators fully equipped and trained whereas Germany has four times that many.

Appropriations for aeroplanes can be obtained only if the general appropriations are increased. Otherwise money would have to be taken from the regular allowances for such necessities as guns and ammunition, which the army and navy heads are, very justly, unwilling to do.

SUGAR DUTY FAVORED BY ADMINISTRATION

Produces Revenue of About $50,000,-
000 Annually and Congress Will be Asked to Extend Emergency Tax Law

Washington, Oct. 7.—Retention of the present duty on sugar until conditions become normal and extension of the emergency tax law until the European war is over are two revenue measures which the Administration has decided to ask from Congress at the coming session. No other revenue measures have been approved by the Administration so far, although many suggestions have been offered which may be considered before Congress completes its work. Retention of the duty on sugar, which goes on the free list May 1, 1916, unless Congress acts—would give the Treasury about $50,000,000 a year. The emergency tax is counted upon to produce about $100,000 a year.

Since both the sugar duty and the emergency tax are working at present, however, this would not mean any increase in existing revenues. Larger appropriations for the army and navy without any corresponding cut in other expenditures indicates that more revenue must be raised from other resources in the next few months. There has been much talk about an issue of Panama Canal bonds, authorization having been given by Congress for the issuance of more than $200,000,000 of these securities, but Mr. McAdoo says no such step is in contemplation. The favoring of the exemption limit of the income tax law is believed to be more probable. A statement by Mr. McAdoo follows:

INTEREST IS INCREASING IN CONFERENCES

That interest is increasing in the weekly sessions of the "Baby's Conference," held under the auspices of the District Nursing Association, is evident from the added number of mothers who attended the meeting at City Hall yesterday afternoon. The meeting was the largest attended since the conferences were started.

FAIRY SINGER GOES TO JAIL ON LARCENY CHARGE

JAMES F. PARKER, ONE OF THE PARKER TWINS, HELD IN $1000 IN MANCHESTER

James F. Parker, one of the famous Parker twins, who were known well and favorably to theatregoers of New England, and even farther away, as soloists, was arraigned in police court, Manchester, yesterday, charged with larceny. He made an admission of guilt and was ordered to recognize in the sum of $1000 for his appearance at the January term of the superior court.

The circumstances surrounding the case, as explained in court by the deputy chief of police, were that Parker went to the Palace Theatre, about the hour of noon Wednesday, and entered room 4, which was assigned to Cornelius F. Roddy, an actor, who resides at 95 Snow street, Fitchburg Mass., and carried away clothing belonging to Mr. Roddy to the value of $25. This he is said to have subsequently sold to Harry Sheinfeld for $1. The clothing was recovered by Inspectors William H. Maher and Charles R. Healy, and Parker placed under arrest. He will be sent to jail because of inability to furnish sureties for his appearance.

It is said of Parker that until the death of his twin brother, some years ago, he was a man of faultless habits and good parts, and enjoyed the esteem and respect of many friends. After the death of his brother he is said to have taken to drink and to have often indulged to such an extent that he has very often been the subject of police attention.

His entrance into room 4 was made easy by the key having been left in the lock.

Parker is said to recently have been employed in the Lake Winnipesaukee district, finding work to do at Center Harbor and Laconia.

Miss Esther Foster. The meeting was interesting and instructive, demonstrations being given by Miss Colon to the young mothers on the proper care of babies, including methods of feeding, washing, dressing and others.

The District Nursing Association, at the inspiration of Miss Foster, is working hard to establish these conferences as much good is thought possible by them. The Association is inviting the aid of the community in making these weekly meetings a success and deserves the hearty cooperation of all.

Miss Eleanor Wetterburg, operating nurse at the Portsmouth Hospital, was present at yesterday's meeting. The next conference will be held next Thursday at 4:00 o'clock at City Hall and all young married women are invited to be present.

DEATH DIARY OF GERMAN OFFICER

Paris, October 6.—This diary dated September 26 was found on the body of a German officer who was killed in Champagne.

"One o'clock in the morning. At 7 I will have been 72 hours since, without interruption, we have been frequently bombarded—22 hours of endless, deafening uproar which even the stedfast nerves can hardly endure.

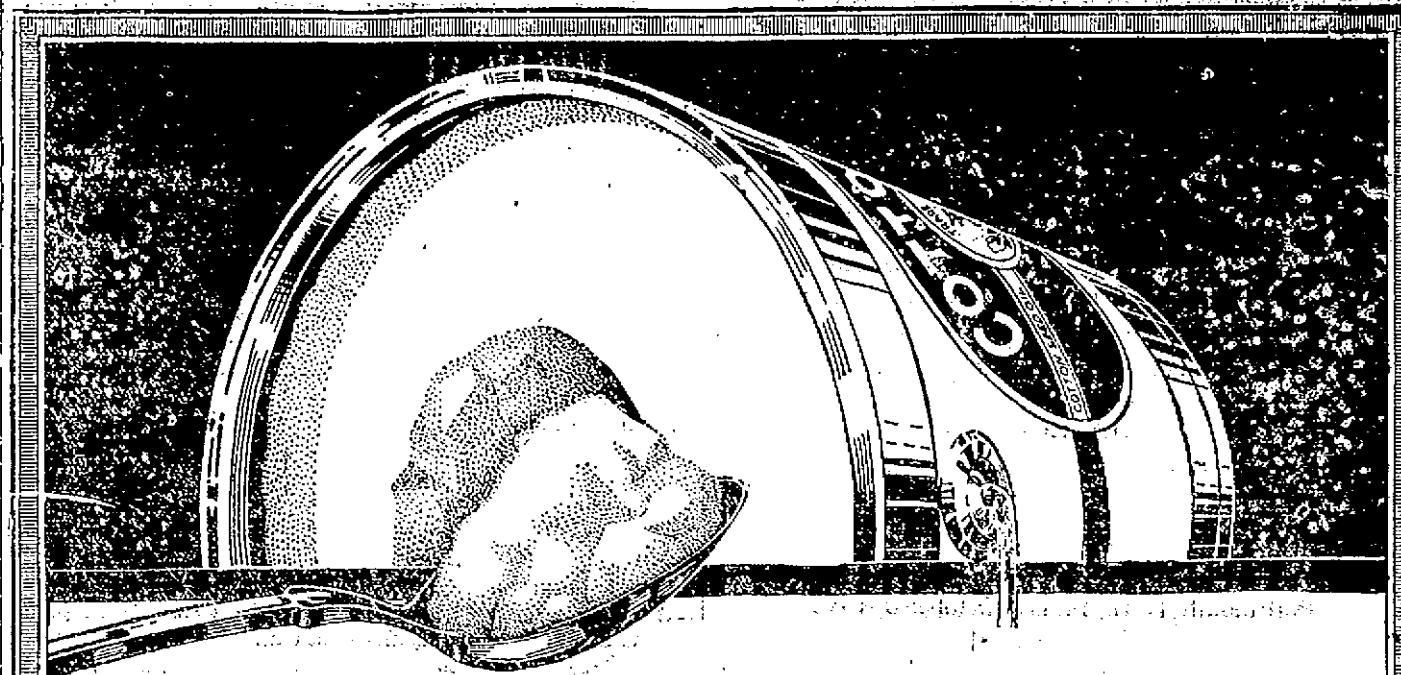

"I was ordered into the trenches as an observer at 7 a. m. Naturally telephone wires were broken. I reached the position of the reserves without much trouble, their trenches being destroyed only here and there, but there the difficulties began.

"Mines and bombs were exploding at brief intervals, interspersed with bullets from machine guns. From that point on the trenches were so damaged that we were obliged to crawl on all fours.

"I left my telephone operator and went ahead amid uninterrupted cracklings, the bursting of grenades, the explosion of shells, the whistling of bullets, the howling of shell fragments and fogs of smoke. By holding my breath behind my respirator I got to a trench that had been repaired 35 times. The communication trench was completely leveled. Creeping closer and closer to the ground I arrived at the second trench ten yards behind the first. Of the latter nothing remains. The second trench is just deep enough to knock in.

"Profiling from a period of relative calm I cast a glance ahead. Our barbed wire fences are destroyed. I signal our batteries which resume a rapid fire. Then I creep back to get my telephone operator. It takes me four hours to cover ground which ordinarily could have been covered in 25 minutes.

"This is becoming frightful. An explosion throws me against a wall of a trench. I fall, faint, tell a shell

Cottolene is pure and wholesome

The shortening you use in cooking and baking should have all the excellence of the food that is prepared with it.

Cottolene itself is a pure, wholesome food, consisting of ultra-refined cottonseed oil—as fine as the choicest salad oil—and beef stearine from selected leaf beef suet.

Cottolene

is not "just as good" as other cooking and frying fats—it is better than any other—more nutritious, more digestible—better in every way.

Cottolene does not absorb tastes or odors. Heat it slowly and use it over and over for all kinds of frying.

Always use a third less of Cottolene than of any other shortening. Cottolene goes farthest and gives the most gratifying results.

POST OFFICE TO AID NAVY IN ENLISTMENTS

DEPARTMENT DISTRIBUTES BLANKS AMONG YOUNG MEN WHO ARE POSSIBLE RECRUITS

Washington, Oct. 7.—Gathering in recruits for the navy by means of cooperation between the Navy Department and the Postoffice Department is the latest scheme devised by the Government for bringing up the number of enlisted men in the navy to its full quota. The plan, official details of which the department seems disinclined to give out, is roughly as follows: Postmasters throughout the United States are being instructed from the central office at Washington to distribute among carriers and clerks blanks accompanied by return envelopes, on which the employees are instructed to place the names and addresses of young men known to them who might be interested in joining the navy. It is stated that in Chicago, for example, the names of over 7000 young men between the ages of seventeen and thirty have been placed on file through this means.

For many years the navy has utilized the post offices throughout the country to distribute information and enlistment blanks upon request, as well as to display posters advertising the travel and educational advantages of Uncle Sam's ocean-going defense. In view of the present shortage of enlisted men, however, it has been deemed necessary to secure names of every available candidate. It is suggested here that men looking for work and applying to postoffices as branches of the Federal employment exchange, will be directed to the nearest naval recruiting office.

Are We Encouraging Crime?

The tendency to deal leniently with offenders against the laws is generally recognized, and there is also evidence of a growing feeling that perhaps the practice is being carried too far. The lightness of sentences that are imposed in many cases and the growing disposition to pardon or parole before sentences are served out have long been attracting the attention of the public, and in numerous quarters the question is being raised whether the best results are to come from this course.

In his inaugural address last winter Governor Whitman of New York spoke of the increase of crime and the spirit of lawlessness as a subject demanding the most thoughtful attention of the people of the state. And he by no means assumed that the trouble was confined to that state. "Indeed," he said, "disregard of law, impatience with legal and moral restraints, contempt for the judicial and executive ministers of justice are phenomena observable in all American communities and among all classes."

The leniency which some are beginning to feel is responsible for this state of things is based on the theory of curing by kindness. That is all well enough in its place and to a certain extent, but it is quite possible that the practice is being carried too far. One thing is certain. It is not doing away with offenses against the laws, which appear to be increasing rather than decreasing.

Right-minded people do not call for harshness in the treatment of criminals, but they feel that there are two sides to the question and that the public has a right to be considered as well as those who have broken the laws designed for the protection of the public. And any policy that fails to provide this protection cannot be expected to permanently receive the sanction and support of the public.

In commenting on the condition that exists one leading newspaper says the trouble is due not to the lack of law, but the lack of its enforcement. Another says the result of leniency, under a mistaken idea of conquering through kindness, too often results in a large class of graduates from less to greater crime.

It would seem to be time for a serious consideration of this subject. Leniency has its place, but it is becoming apparent that it may be overworked in dealing with law breakers, and that the time is approaching when the public will demand more rigidly in the matter of law enforcement.

Skilled mechanics are leaving the DuPont powder works in New Jersey, not because of labor trouble, but because explosions have been too numerous of late. Whether it is suspected that not all of the explosions have been accidental is not stated, but many of the workmen have reached the conclusion that they will be better off on the outside until safer conditions can be guaranteed.

A Delaware chemist claims to have discovered a substitute for air which will enable submarine crews to remain under water an indefinite length of time. It is a big claim, but the people have learned not to be too hasty in stamping as impossible new inventions and discoveries. Their wrong conclusions are liable to be heralded around the world by wireless telephone.

Dr. Duimba, late ambassador from Austria, has sailed for home "With malice toward none and charity for all," even the newspapers. A grievous mistake necessitated his departure, which he declared was taken with regret, as under the circumstances it well might be. He is gone, but he and his dastardly undertaking will not be forgotten.

News of subway crashes in New York is startling, but the wonder is how a city can occupy so much space in the air and under ground and escape with so few catastrophes. Those who have been in New York city do not need to be told that it is fearfully and wonderfully made.

There was no trouble in raising $500,000,000 for the foreign loan after the subscription books were opened, and there were numerous investors who were unable to "get in." There is everything to indicate that the bonds are considered a first-class investment.

The prohibition candidate for governor of Massachusetts inflicts "Rum, ruin and reaction" upon the Republican party of that state. But it is not probable that the effect will be so disastrous as was a former notable effort in the line of alliteration.

Hereafter when the New York city policemen salute the flag or stand at attention while the Star Spangled Banner is being played the act will not necessarily denote patriotism. They will simply be performing a part of their prescribed duties.

CURRENT OPINION

Railroads Largely Responsible For Their Present Financial Straits.

Railroad organizations have been told from time to time that the politicians, state commissions, Interstate commerce commission and the state legislatures were responsible for all of our troubles. The legislatures in some of the various states and some of the various state commissions have a good many sins to answer for, but in my humble opinion the ruination of the railroads is not one of them.

In the last analysis there is only one body of men responsible for the great majority of the troubles with which the railroads are so sorely afflicted today and that body of men is made of railroad employees and railroad officers of this and past generations.

I do not mean by this to question the honesty or integrity of railroad officers of this or past generations with reference to money matters for I believe that the integrity of railroad officers in this respect is as high and great as that of any great business organization. In this or any other country, but I do mean to charge and charge deliberately that the railroads have been brought to their present condition simply through a failure of railroad officers to appreciate their proper relations toward the state and the public at large.—By Edward F. Kearney, President of Wabash Railroad.

IDEAL LOCATION COULD BE SECURED HERE

The new naval consulting board of eminent civilian scientists, have made a recommendation for the establishment of a great research and experimental laboratory for the navy. The detail plans are given in another column of this paper.

The board recommends through its chairman, Thomas A. Edison, that the laboratory, which will cost $5,000,000 and $2,500,000 to run each year, be built on tidewater deep enough to allow a dreadnaught to come alongside, and the place easy to guard. There is tide water deep enough for a dreadnaught to come to a dock and with the added facilities of the navy yard and dry dock across the river. Still, water in the back channel for experimental purposes—in fact every condition that is suggested by the consulting board could be met with.

FORMER RESIDENT A SUICIDE

Hezekiah Welsh, formerly of this city committed suicide at his office, 23 Front street, Salem at 6 o'clock Thursday evening. He shot himself through the heart with a 22-caliber revolver, the body being found by his partner, Frank Bellou.

In Salem he was engaged as part of the Silvan-R-Slipper Company.

Mr. Welsh came here first as general sales manager of the Baker-Carpenter Shoe Company and after a brief brought his family here, residing first on Highland street and later in the Howe house on State street.

While here he attempted to organize the Rockingham Shoe Company, to make slippers and he hired the Maxwell property on Daniel street and work was started fitting it up. He was unable to make a go of it and was soon in financial trouble and the sheriff took possession of the plant on Market street. He was then ordered from the Howe house.

Some years ago he organized the Hampton Shoe Company which subsequently went to the wall.

Welsh has been in the shoe business for many years, making his home the most of the time in Haverhill. He leaves a wife and three children.

NEVER RECEIVED MONEY FROM THE CITY

We wish to state to the public through this paper that we have never in any way whatever received money or help from the city. During the year of 1914 we were in quarantine from May 12 to Aug. 30 with smallpox fever, and in January and February, 1915, I was laid up with rheumatic fever, but the city paid me no money or helped me in any way. We have heard several times we had received money and help, so we take this method.

A "NATIONAL POINT OF VIEW"

Mr. Manufacturer, when you figure out the profits of your sales force, do you take the force as a whole, or by individuals? Don't you want to know whether Bill Jones is as good a salesman as Tom Brown? Don't you eliminate the salesmen who do not hold up sales. Why not consider your national advertising with the same point in view? The minute you do you will be convinced that newspapers are the logical media. And once you realize this you will get down to a business basis and know what pays and what does not. Information helpful to manufacturers will be given on request to the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York.

ATTEMPT

HOLD-UP OF TRAIN

Two Men in Alabama Hospital Following Battle With Detectives and U. S. Marshals.

(Special to The Herald)

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 8.—Tom Collier is in a hospital here with seven bullet wounds in his body and Jim Raper is slightly wounded following the attempted hold-up of Louisville and Nashville R. R. passenger train No. 7 at 4 o'clock this morning and a battle with two United States marshals and two detectives. The attempted hold-up occurred near Boyles, Ala., only 3 miles north of Birmingham.

The board recommends that the laboratory be built on tidewater deep enough to permit a dreadnaught to come alongside, and near, but not in a large city. As thus described, the laboratory would be near some large port on the Atlantic coast. It could not be at Washington, because the depth of water in the Potomac river is not enough.

Mr. Edison's plan in detail is as follows:

The laboratory should be located on tidal water of sufficient depth to permit a dreadnaught to come to the dock.

It should be near, but not in a large city, so supplies may be easily obtained, and where labor is obtainable.

The laboratory should be of complete equipment to enable working models to be made and tested to destruction. There should be:

A—A pattern shop.

B—A brass foundry.

C—A cast iron and steel foundry.

D—Machine shop for large and small work.

E—Sheetmetal shop.

F—Forge shop for small and large work.

G—Marine railway large enough to build experimental submarines of 1500 tons.

H—Wood working shops.

I—Chemical laboratory.

J—Physical laboratory.

K—Optical grinding department, etc.

L—Motion picture developing and printing department.

M—Complete drafting rooms.

N—Electrical laboratory and wireless laboratory.

O—Mechanical laboratory and testing machines.

P—Explosives laboratory from main laboratory.

—The building should be of modern concrete construction with metal sills and doors, wire glass windows etc; ample fire protection.

—A naval officer of rank should be in charge. He should be especially fitted.

BIG RESEARCH LABORATORY

FOR THE NAVY

Washington, October 7.—The first concrete result of Secretary Daniels' creation of the naval consulting board of eminent civilians, scientists and inventors appeared tonight when formal announcement was made that the board after an all day session, had unanimously approved a plan for the establishment of a great research and experimental laboratory for the U. S. navy.

B—Under him should be naval heads of broad experience in laboratory methods and science in general—practical as well as theoretical men. They should not go to sea.

C—Under them should be staffs of civilian experimenters, chemists physiologists, etc.

D—Each sub-head should have his corps of assistants and with shop facilities, without too much red tape.

E—There should be at least two and probably three shifts of men. Time should be the essence of the place.

F—Secrecy should be the governing factor. The place should be surrounded by a high fence and guarded night and day at all hours. No visitors allowed.

G—Facilities should exist for enabling the inventor to assist in the development of the idea he has presented, provided he is a practical man.

H—The investment for grounds, buildings and equipment should total approximately $5,000,000.

I—The annual operating expense to be between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000.

The recommendation by the naval consulting board that such a laboratory should be established was adopted at the end of one day's session. Mr. Edison and members of the board who spent yesterday visiting the naval proving grounds at Indian Head, held a preliminary session behind closed doors at the navy department last night and laid the preliminary foundation for the rapid progress made to-day.

The board was in session from early this morning to 4 o'clock tonight. The morning session dealt mainly with matters of organization. Before adjourning for luncheon this afternoon at the Army and Navy Club with Secretary Daniels as the host, the board elected the following officers:

Chairman—Thomas A. Edison of Orange, N. J.

First vice-chairman—Peter Cooper of New York.

Second vice-chairman—William T. Saunders of Pleasant, N. J.

Secretary—Thomas Robinson of Stamford, Conn.

Asst. to chairman—M. R. Hutchinson of Orange, N. J.

Contrary to expectations the board found it impossible to adjourn in time to leave on the four o'clock train from New York, and the afternoon session lasted until nearly seven o'clock to-night. The sessions were held behind closed doors in the navy department library. Only members of the board were present although Secretary Daniels conferred with its members a short time. Mr. Edison presided. It was decided to change the name of the body to the "navy consulting board" instead of allowing it to continue to go by the name of "naval advisory board" and naval inventions board, and

RESCUED THREE MEN IN RIVER

Boat Swamped at the Old Navy Yard Bridge.

Howell Prichard and Joseph Austin of Portsmouth, and James White of New Castle workmen employed in the department of public works at the navy yard made narrow escape from death by drowning on Thursday afternoon while at work dismantling the old navy yard bridge. They were working in one of the yard flat bottom boats and had just placed a chain around one of the piling to be hauled up by the derrick, when they were tossed into the stream. When the piling was hauled way up the chain slipped and the big stick fell across the boat which quickly capsized. The tide was running hard at the time and one of them had no knowledge of swimming. The other two did what they could to help him and they all managed to hang on to the overturned boat and cry for help. The tide was fast carrying them away in the back channel when James Boardman of Kittery, a river boatman, put off in a row boat and rescued them as they were passing under the new iron bridge. Boardman was alone at the time and had his hands full to get the men ashore.

Austin was in bad shape from exposure but the others were not the worse from the accident. This adds more to the record of life saving on the part of boardman who appears to be always on hand when such service is needed.

It was noticed that nothing that looked like a life preserver could be found on the bridge or at the main gate guard house. This matter should be given some attention by the yard authorities and they should see that preservers are kept aboard the steam derrick also.

CRUSHED HIS FINGER

Timothy Driscoll of Thornton street employed at the navy yard met with a serious mishap this Friday morning. While engaged in his work, a heavy bolt fell on the little finger of his right hand crushing the same quite badly. After receiving first aid at the navy yard, he came to this city where, the

Teutons Invade Serbia, Three Rivers Crossed--British Troops Landed at Salonica to Join French on Greecian Soil

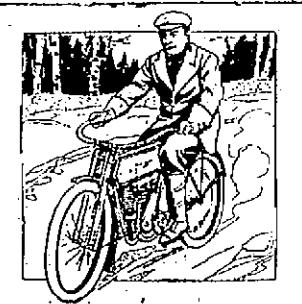

London, Oct. 7.—Berlin makes the official announcement that the Austro-German armies have begun the invasion of Serbia, crossing the Save, the Drina and the Danube at several points and establishing footholds on their southern banks. This marks the launching of the long-heralded campaign of the Teutonic Allies to get in touch with their Turkish brothers-in-arms and will participate the crusade in the Balkans. Recent developments have shown that Bulgaria will cooperate with Germany and Austria by attacking Serbia from the east. An army of French and British troops has been landed at Salonica, Greece, and been sent to Serbia to assist in meeting the new attack. There have been given out no authoritative figures of the number of Teutonic troops detached for this campaign, estimates running from 100,000 to 500,000. German and Austrian troops are said to have been despatched to the Serbian front Russia, and it is reported that Field Marshal Von Mackensen is in charge of these operations. The German plan of campaign is believed to be to force a way through Serbia and by the active assistance or the passive assistance of Bulgaria, to reach the sea of Marmora and give assistance to the Turkish army. The German announcement indicates that the invading movement is in progress along a large part of the boundary between Austria and Serbia. The Danube forms the border from the Roumanian frontier to Belgrade,

British Troops in Greece

Athens, Oct. 7.—British troops began to land Tuesday at Salonica. French troops are disembarking a mile and a half from the town and are being concentrated in a camp located on ground conceded to Serbia after 1913 upon which to build warehouses. From this point they are entrained as quickly as possible for Glevell, on the Serbian frontier.

Teuton Host in Serbia

Berlin, via London, Oct. 7.—Large German and Austrian forces have invaded Serbia. The Teutonic troops have crossed the Drina, Save and Danube Rivers at many places, the war office announced today. It is stated

500 REPORTED DEAD, $12,000,000 DAMAGE IN STORM AND FLOOD ON THE GULF COAST.

TWO VIEWS OF DAMAGE DONE BY FLOOD IN NEW ORLEANS

It is feared that the total dead in the storm on the gulf of Mexico coast will number 500. Property damage in New Orleans and throughout the storm swept territory has been enormous. Relief parties returning to New Orleans from the delta section still find rich plantations in that section had been wiped out, crops ruined, orange trees destroyed, buildings washed out to sea and that the country for miles was under water, four to fifteen feet deep. The levees in many places have been destroyed, making a new menace to the inhabitants and rendering more difficult the work of rehabilitation. River pilots expressed the opinion that it would be impossible to reconstruct the levees in many places for some time. While no official estimate has been obtainable of the damage in Louisiana and along the Mississippi coast, persons familiar with the territory believe that it will approximate $12,000,000. This estimate is considered conservative. Relief work is progressing rapidly, due in great part to the quick recovery made in New Orleans and in larger cities from the effects of the hurricane.

that the invading troops have established firm footholds on the other banks of the rivers.

Allied Envoys Leave Sofia

Sofia, via Berlin, Oct. 7.—Bulgaria's reply to the proposals made Sept. 14 by the Entente Powers was handed to the representatives of these Powers Tuesday. The same afternoon Bulgaria's reply to the Russian ultimatum was delivered. The Russian minister notified Premier Radoviloff of a rupture of diplomatic relations between the two countries and that Russian interests in Bulgaria had been confided to the Dutch chargé d'affaires. The Russian, French, British, Serbian and Italian ministers have asked for their passports. It is reported that the Bulgarian authorities for strategic reasons have ordered the evacuation by the civil populations of all towns and villages on the coast of Thrace.

Skirmishes in Caucasus

Petrograd, Oct. 7.—On the Caucasus front in the coastal region of the Black Sea, southwest of Kholpa, there has been nothing but advance guard actions. Southeast of Lake Vanotman the front between the villages of Keghyk and Ardot, northwest of Khorossan, on Oct. 4, the Turks, profiting by darkness, attempted to advance, but were stopped by our fire. South of Khorossan, near the village of Kuria, there have been brushes with a Turkish advance guard.

Centre Efforts on Dvinsk

Petrograd, Oct. 7.—The Germans who are attempting to capture Dvinsk are operating with the same feverish activity as preceded the storming of Kovno. A field railway has been laid for a distance of twenty miles along the Vilnous road; heavy guns have been brought up in the face of enormous difficulties; day and night a ceaseless procession of motor cars brings up supplies of shells, and cranes have been erected at many points to unload these supplies. It is reported here that German generals have been appointed to the principal commands of the Austrian armies of General von Pilibio and General Bochino-Ermoli. The following official communication from headquarters was issued last night:

"In the Jakobstadt region the usual fusillade became intensified. Southwest of Jakobstadt the Germans bombarded the neighborhood of Baragad."

"In the region of Dvinsk the artillery duel has been incessant. South of Pastavy we dislodged the enemy from his trenches. At the farm of Zagorets between the Narache and Vichnevets lakes we pushed the enemy further back. In the course of the pursuit of the Germans to the southwest of Vichnevets Lake our troops occupied Abramovszazna, Borovymlyn and the village of Manki, north of Smorgon."

"In the southern region of the Dvinsk river there is no change. On the estuary of Stokhod the enemy once more sought to capture the village under cover of a concentrated fire by his artillery. We repulsed this attack. Southwest of Chortovsk the enemy was thrown back toward the village of Novozelki, leaving in our hands about 150 prisoners and one quick-firer."

"In the region of villages of Krasnovoda, Koscystoch and Kolki we had several conflicts with the enemy, who was moving toward the east." Grand Duke Nicholas, who was appointed commander-in-chief of the Russian forces on Caucasian front when Emperor Nicholas assumed supreme command of the armies of Russia, arrived yesterday at Tilsit, Prussia.

Held Back Teuton Armada

Paris, Oct. 7.—The Germans have landed evidently all the French from the north of Le Scarpe, and at the same time delivered four counter-attacks against the positions recently captured by the French near Souchez. They were repulsed at all points. This information was picked out by the French War Office this afternoon.

There was furthermore intense artillery warfare at other points on the front. In the Champagne district last evening the Germans delivered a series of stubborn attacks against the positions lost by them to the north of Tihaine. These attacks everywhere failed, and the Germans suffered heavy losses. At Soezech the French exploded two mines, causing serious damage to German works. The text of the communiqué follows:

"The enemy last night bombarded violently all our front to the north of Le Scarpe. They undertaken four successive counter-attacks against the positions recently captured by us in the forests to the west of the road between Soezech and Ansnes. Here they were completely repulsed."

"There have been intense bombardments in which both sides took part to the south of the River Somme; in the sectors of Andoech, Dancourt and Cuigny; at Metz; to the north of the River Aisne; in the vicinity of Tracy le Val and at the forest of St. Marc. In the Champagne district the Germans yesterday evening delivered a number of stubborn counter-attacks, taking use of successive lines of troops, against the positions which they recently lost to us to the north of Tihaine. These attacks everywhere resulted in our favor and the Germans suffered very heavy losses."

"At Epurges we caused the explosion of two mines which inflicted serious damage on the works of the enemy."

Advance Toward Rovereto

Rome, Oct. 7.—The official statement from the Italian general headquarters made public last night says:

"In the Terragnolo Valley on the Rovereto road one of our columns occupied on the fifth the localities of Camperi and Alla Vetta, on the southern slope of Doss del Sonne (plateau of Felgaria). The enemy also hastily abandoned the neighboring township of Piazza, retreating to Ward Potpich, pursued by our artillery fire."

"Small engagements have occurred on the Zallas crest, between Fellagata, southwest of Leopoldskirchen and opposite Peteano, and on the northern slopes of Carso and Gurzla. The enemy was repulsed, leaving a number of prisoners in our hands."

SUBMARINES FOR COAST DEFENSE

A MAN'S LINEN

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—The present intention of the Navy Department to recommend the construction of thirty coast defence submarines and five of the larger seagoing type in the forthcoming building programme is believed here to pressure a greater future reliance on submarines. It also is believed to indicate the belief in the wisdom of a strong submarine defence for the coasts to co-operate with the battle ship fleet and to form the nucleus of an emergency defence in the event that the battle ship fleet failed to guard certain portions of the coast or had been put out of commission.

Naval officers realize that the navy to be effective must have both battle ships and battle cruisers, but they are anxious that the submarine shall be developed to a high state of efficiency because of its peculiar adaptability to the necessities of American defence. No other type of vessel could in all likelihood be used so effectively in guarding the long coast lines and wounding an enemy fleet.

It is learned that the determination of the department to construct three large seagoing submarines is an index of the confidence which naval constructors have placed in this type. It is said that the plans and specifications for the new twenty-five knot sea-going submarines authorized at the last session are about completed and that bids will be advertised for early next month.

There was further discussion today of the needs of the navy, particularly with regard to personnel, and some speculation concerning how many more men will be provided.

Instead of the 18,000 men last year needed by the navy to bring its personnel up to the strength required by the present tonnage, it is now probable that the navy will be lucky to get an increase of 7,000 men in the coming appropriation bill.

AMERICAN BUILT SHIPS MAKE RECORD

One of the ten American built submarines that crossed the Atlantic ocean under their own power in July and August now are co-operating with the allied fleet and land forces in the Dardanelles, according to advices received from Montreal.

Originally, six of the ten submarines proceeded from Montreal to the North Sea while the other four went direct to the Dardanelles. Two weeks ago all except one of the larger division, were ordered to the Dardanelles.

The Anderson (quintal) made the 3,000 mile journey from the North Sea to the Dardanelles without incident, other than a brief stop at Gibraltar for a fresh supply of fuel and food. Under their own power and without convoy they steamed through the Strait of Dover and English Channel into the open ocean. Here two war ships met them and convoyed them to Gibraltar. The submarines traversed the Mediterranean and the Aegean Sea alone.

The trip was made in nine days despite rough weather which was encountered in the ocean and in the Bay of Biscay. According to the report of their arrival in the Dardanelles, they suffered no mishap and their machinery is in perfect working order, including their operations in the North Sea, they have traveled more than eight thousand miles since they started down the St. Lawrence river from Montreal the last week in July.

The epoch making trip of the ten submarines, the first undersea craft to cross the ocean under their own steam in either direction, was published exclusively in the New York Herald. All the parts were made by the Fore River Shipbuilding Company at Quincy, Mass., and the engines were built by the Electric Boat Company at New London, Conn. The parts of the engines were shipped to the yards of the Vickers-Maxim Company at Montreal, where they were assembled and then launched.

Trials were begun yesterday off Provincetown, Mass. of ten submarines which were built at Quincy by the Fore River Ship Building Company for Great Britain. These submarines were to cross the ocean under their own power, but because of a ruling by Mr. Bryan they will be held on this side of the Atlantic until the end of the war.

breaks, or their pals, may try to revert the orders into cash, and as they will be stamped legitimately, and are apparently bona fide, many people may be floundered out of considerable cash. It is impossible to warn every merchant separately, so the inspector has resorted to the newspapers, to secure the necessary publicity.

"The patrol, or sentinel dog works only at night. During the day he stays in the trenches with the men, most of his time asleep. Then, when night descends, he leaps with the patrol or sentry party out of the trenches and passes the hours till dawn in the perilous work of patrolling the four, or five hundred yards of front the party is assigned to cover. Thanks to him, the party is insured against surprise by an enemy patrol."

Although it is doubtful if the robbers will attempt to work much in the vicinity of the town robbed, they may take Manchester as one of their fields.

The news of the robbery at Eaton Centre will be known for the first time through this announcement and it will serve to put many of the merchants on their guard.

If in doubt regarding any money order, information can be furnished by the local postoffice authorities. The bank orders will be made out with the Eaton Centre stamp, and the numbers on the blanks will be from 665 to 600.

DOGS HELP FRANCE IN WAR

Paris, Oct. 8.—Although not yet equaling in numbers the dogs in the German army, the French now have 1,200 dogs on the battle front, where they are doing notable work. They are divided into three classes, patrol dogs, linking dogs and ambulance dogs.

In a statement describing the work of these canine aids, C. Bent, Secretary of the French Association for Training War Dogs, said:

"The patrol dogs are always of the sheepdog breed, chiefly from Picardy or Flanders, and noted for their intelligence and sense of smell. Their calm temperament too, counts. The fox terrier also was tried but his nervous system was found to be too excitable. The sheepdog's sense of smell is wonderful; he easily detects the presence of an enemy a hundred or even a hundred and fifty yards away.

"The training of the dog for sentinel and patrol work, when he is always accompanied by soldiers, is simple and speedy. Of course, there is first of all, a selection of specially intelligent dogs made in Paris, but when the dogs selected have been sent to the front it requires only four nights' teaching to make them fit for their work. The chief difficulty is to make them learn not to bark, but only growl. Violence is never used; a tap or two on the head is enough when they start barking.

"The training of dogs for linking purposes—that is, for keeping two bodies of soldiers in touch with one another—requires two months. The course for an ambulance dog is nearly a year. The ambulance dog, unlike the patrol or linking dog, must be taught to bark so as to give notice to the battlefield searchers when he has found a wounded man.

"In the case of patrol and linking dogs there must always be some one whom the dog knows at the point to which he is to be sent. The dog must have exceptional qualities if he is to act independently; if he is to be used, for instance, for dragging a stretcher out to wounded men under fire or small portable kitchens on broad-gauge wheels to men in an advanced fighting line, or at a listening post. They cannot be used for independent work where woods or forests have to be negotiated.

In linking work the dog at the outset always makes first for his point of departure, and from there starts for the detachment to which he is to carry his message; but on his second or third journey his sense of smell enables him to make a short cut between the two points. The speed shown by

COMPLETING PLANS FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AT KEENE

Plans for the state Sunday School Convention to be held at Keene on October 11 to 13, inclusive, are being pushed along rapidly towards completion and every effort is being made to make this 42d annual event one of the best sessions if not the very best session, realized by the organization, in its long period of work.

The meetings scheduled contain the best speakers from various parts of the country that can be obtained along this line of interests. The subjects are of especial moment and the success of this part of the event is as well as assured.

The first meetings will take place on Monday evening, being a teachers' training session.

Before the mass meetings to be held on Tuesday evening, will be an immense men's and older boys' parade, an addition in number to this demonstration being desired.

Institute sections will be held under expert instructors on Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning.

One elaborate feature of the event will be held on Wednesday evening in the grand pageant to be given in the City Hall this being presented by 500 persons and representing the progress of Sunday school work from the early Hebrew times to the present day.

Three days of inspiration, instruction and vision for better Sunday schools in New Hampshire is promised by those in charge.

It is desired that each Sunday school in the state shall send as large a list of delegates as is possible to this important gathering.

Dr. Lockhart and Mr. Allen Wilson will speak at the men's mass meeting Tuesday evening and Mrs. Hendrick will give a report of the year's work, and speak at the women's mass meeting.

The theme of the convention is "Forward." A song, entitled, "Forward New Hampshire," has been written expressly to use at this convention the words by the Rev. Daniel L. Cross, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational Sunday school, Nashua, and the music by Mr. Clarence A. Woodbury, superintendent of the Pilgrim Sunday School, Nashua, who is the director of music in public schools of Milford.

Other important features, not as yet specified, will be included in this series of important events and any one interested in Sunday school promotion can afford to miss this opportunity.

Exeter, N. H., Oct. 8.—The Phillips Exeter Academy is making elaborate preparations for the dedication of its new $200,000 building and the celebration of Founder's Day this coming Saturday. The new building, which was designed by Cram and Ferguson, was called on the opening day of school, the finest building of its kind in the world. It is fitting that at its dedication, the exercises should be of an unusual character.

These exercises will begin with a procession to the new building. It will be led by a band, and will include the Governor of New Hampshire and his staff, representatives of many schools and colleges, the trustees and faculty of the academy, and the five hundred and fifty students of the academy.

The dedication will follow with addresses by Dr. Lewis Perry, Principal of the Academy, S. Sidney Smith, President of the Trustees, President Hobben of Princeton, Principal Stearns of Andover, and Thomas W. Lamont, an alumnus, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan and Company.

The Latin motto, taken from the old Academy bell in the second Academy building erected in 1794, Huc venire pueri ut viri sit, has been inscribed on the marble entrance of the new building. For this occasion, this call reversed, "Come hither, men, that you may become boys," will summon alumni from every quarter to renew their youth at the school of their boyhood.

Among them will be four members of the Governor's staff, and many men eminent in business and professions.

An additional attraction for the day will be the football game between Exeter and Worcester Academy, which will be played on the Plimpton Playing Fields in the afternoon. Luncheon and tea will be served at the new Graduate House for the alumni and invited guests. Entertainment will also be provided for the wives and families of the alumni. Everything seems to indicate that October ninth, 1915, will be one of the great days in the Academy's history.

RAN OVER CHILD'S HAND

Lucia Toppi, Three Years Old, Injured on Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Toppi of Deer street are trying to solve the cause of an accident to their three year old daughter Lucia who was injured on Thursday afternoon. The little girl, and a boy 2 years of age were playing on the sidewalk at the corner of Vaughan and Dear streets, when the mother hearing the cries of the young ones rushed out of the house and found the girl with her right hand bleeding freely. Dr. Neal was called and found the second finger badly cut and broken. Both children are too young to tell what happened and nobody witnessed the accident. It is thought that a passing auto or wagon ran over the child's hand close to the sidewalk curbing, and to avoid any further trouble kept on going.

SOLDIER ACT PLEASED ALL AT COLONIAL

LAWRENCE AND EDWARDS AND TWO OTHER STRONG ACTS MADE UP FINE BILL LAST EVENING.

Comedy, pathos and an odd situation are pictured in the character sketch, "The Pension Office," played by Lawrence and Edwards at the Colonial Theatre, one of the feature acts on the bill for the last three days of the week.

An old Civil War veteran applied for a pension, the Pension Officer being a son of an old Confederate officer. The old "Vet" was one of the fire-eating kind, but was human to the extent of wanting to whip the "Johnnie Reb" who got away from him fifty years ago. He played his part in a manner that was convincing and the little comedy which was worked into the act took away any feeling of sadness that the action might call forth. It was well received and was one of the kind of offerings that touches a spot in all of us.

The motor-cycling balloons, presented by the Nedervelds, proved of immense interest. An electric-driven motor cycle was sent about a high banked circular track by the big monkey in a style that would satisfy "Piggy" Moran, the hardest rider in the world to satisfy. The work that is necessary in training these animals to do such stunts was appreciated by the big audience.

Wayne and the Warren Girls presented an amusing sketch, the action taking place on a ship-board. Their songs were new and pleasing and were sung in an excellent manner. Their lines were clever and funny and called for great applause, which was well deserved. It is another of the "Quality" shows which is the policy of the house under its present management, well balanced and strong, with a good picture program to support the vaudeville.
